Vol.36 No.14 2006

CONTENTS

Douglas Lee's entry 'Lord of Cyrenaica' won a Gold award in Class 9 Dioramas.

Euro Militaire 2006 came and went all too quickly for some of us this year. The usual hustle and bustle over the weekend associated with this show belies the long period of advance arrangements and organization since the beginning of the year, necessary to put on such an event. However, everything went more or less to plan and more than a few visitors took the time to express their enjoyment and satisfaction with events. We now look towards 2007 and the weekend of 22nd - 23rd September for the 23rd Euro Militaire.

The 14th issue of Military Modelling has traditionally become the 'special edition' for Euro Militaire and a supporting member of the team Adrian Hopwood, who will be known to regular readers for his articles on miniature figure modelling, moved into the hot seat to photograph the models for it. To produce the photographic content of this issue Adrian was ably assisted mainly by Mike Harbour, Malcolm Cumin and other willing helpers. He's emerged from the deep end with flying colours and all this in addition to putting in a stint of judging too!

Another stalwart is editorial assistant David Warden who, along with his competition registrar duties, and ably assisted his new 'minder' Gary Raison, tirelessly compiles the list of awards. This is an unenviable task having to read, or rather decipher, some of the judges and competitors' handwriting. Lisa Britnell and Mai Warden were at 'front of house' once again, checking entry tickets and later handing out the awards in the competition room. Helpers and stewards are all volunteers and Euro Militaire would be much more difficult to stage without the unstinting help of volunteers, and a big 'thank you' goes out to them all.

It was surprising to note that for the first time in the history of Euro Militaire's competition that Class 1 for Single Painted Figures was way down on all previous years. Chief Judge Geoffrey Illsley estimated there was only about a third of what usually appears in that class. But Class 2 was markedly up in numbers and there was a lot more in the diorama classes this year. Overall entries in all competitions was 630 - virtually the same as last year. Junior display entries, however, were also up which is very encouraging.

In addition to the coveted 'Best of Show' medal, the judges awarded 41 Gold, 47 Silver, 56 Bronze, 57 Highly Commended and 59 Commended medals. A new class this year was 23 for fantasy subjects and it attracted a healthy number of entries taking three Gold, two Silver, two Bronze, two Highly Commended and one Commended awards.

Dragon Models Ltd put in their first appearance at a major UK show and they set up their 'Dragon Expo 06' in the main hall. D Day veteran Douglas Kay was on their stand signing special editions of the Dragon Sherman 17pdr Firefly kits and a 1:6 scale Dragon 'Action Figure' of himself, aged 19 as a turret gunner serving with 13th/18th Hussars within 27th Armoured Brigade in 1944.

To anyone who couldn't make the show this year - you missed a good one! Hopefully this special addition of Military Modelling will somehow fill the desire to see a cross-section of the competition models close up. Just sit back and closely examine the excellence of model making illustrated in the following pages and above all, enjoy!

Ken Jones

COVER: The Best of Show model at Euro Militaire was Phil Stutcinskas' Gold medal winning PzKpfw IV Ausf J with attendant figures entered in Class 16 for 'Military Vehicle Vignettes.' Inset is D. Cartacci's 'Red Lancer Trumpeter' which also won a Gold award in Class 2 for Painted Single Foot Figures over 65mm.*

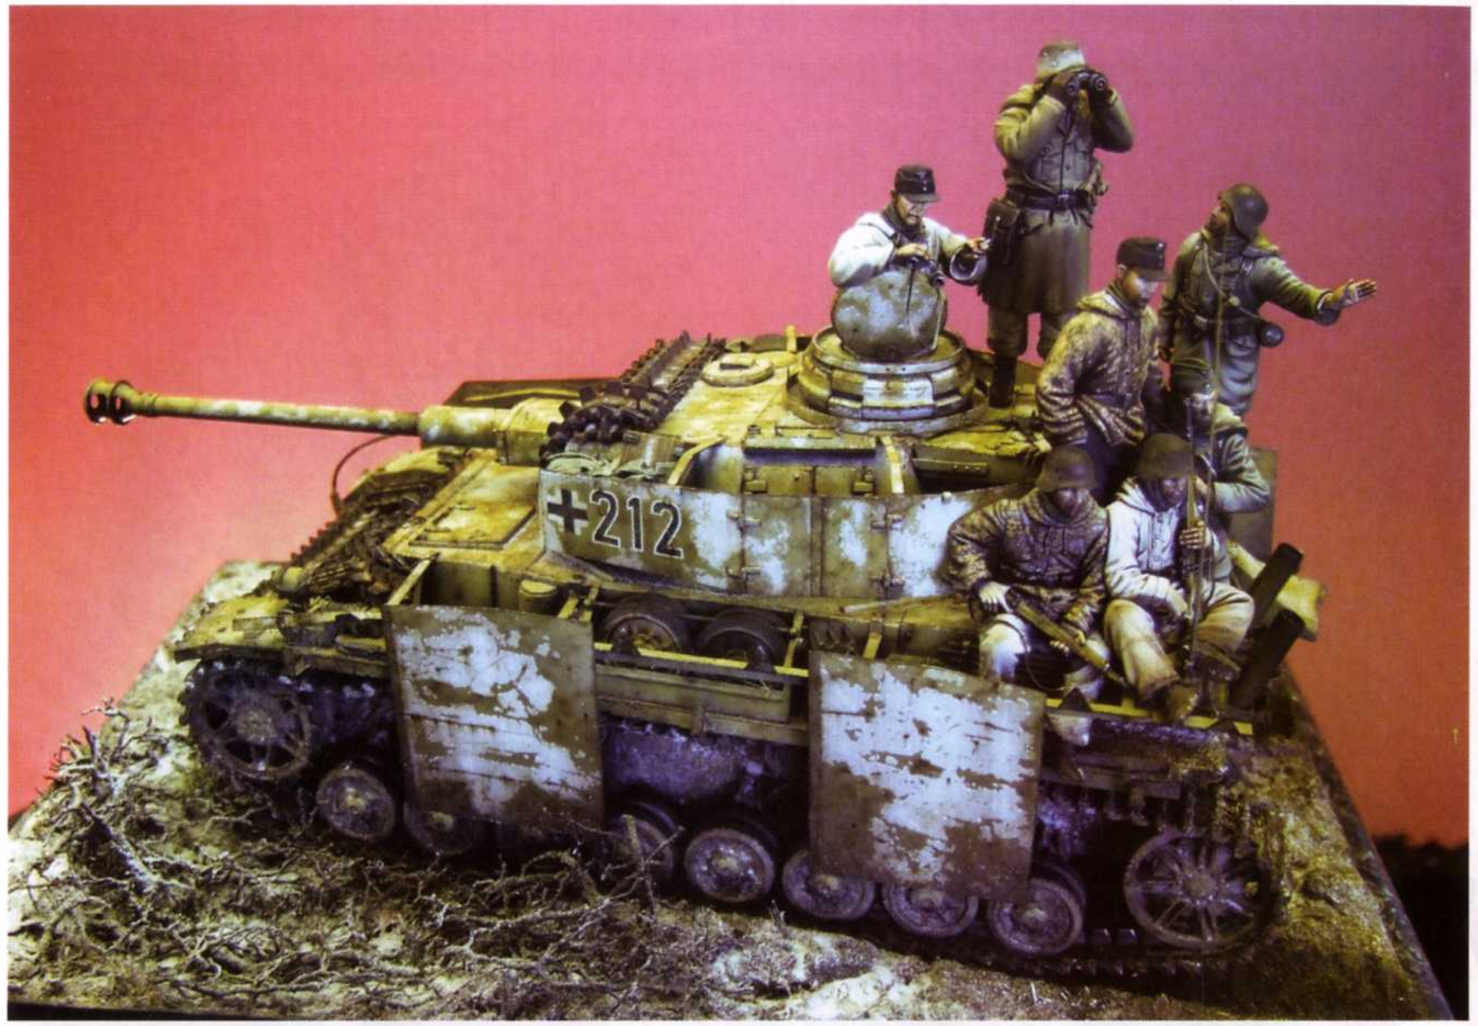
'Panzer IV Ausf J Wiking' by Phil Stutcinskas.
Class 16. GOLD & BEST OF SHOW.

Freddie Leung the President of Dragon Models made the Best of Show presentation to Phil Stutcinskas.



Euro Militaire's Best of Show award is decided by the judges from all the Gold medal winners in the competition and can be awarded to any model, from a single painted 54mm figure to a complex diorama. Over the 22 years of Euro Militaire, flat figure displays have won Best of Show, as have single vehicle models, but dioramas have usually been to the fore. This year's winning model in Class 16 Military Vehicle 'Vignettes' (a new class added only two years ago) had both a 1:35 scale armoured vehicle and seven individual figures upon it. The modeller, Phil Stutcinskas admirably combined the talents of vehicle and figure modelling shown in the pictures of his superb model displayed here.

'Whispers' like, "How can a vehicle win Best of Show?" were already circulating in the week following Euro Militaire. How can anyone making such a crass comment fail to notice the well-modelled figures standing and sitting on the vehicle. If these seven figures had been displayed on a grassy mound or rocky outcrop, would the same comments have been made? I doubt it. Congratulations to Phil, it was a popular decision and he a very worthy Best of Show winner.
